

BEND IN JUNE: EMBRACING SUMMER, COMMUNITY, AND THE SPIRIT OF JUNETEENTH

June brings a special kind of warmth and energy to Bend. The days grow longer, the evenings invite people outdoors, and the community begins to settle into the rhythm of summer. For residents of Cascade Village, this season offers a wonderful opportunity to enjoy connection, comfort, and the beauty of living in a place where neighbors know one another and shared experiences matter.

As summer begins, Bend comes alive with outdoor gatherings, local events, and the everyday pleasures that make this time of year so enjoyable. Residents across the city head to parks, trails, and patios, while community-centered neighborhoods create their own sense of belonging through social connection, conversation, and a welcoming atmosphere. June is a time when people naturally come together, and that spirit is felt strongly in places that value both independence and community.

For those who call Cascade Village home, the month of June is a chance to appreciate the balance between an active lifestyle and a peaceful home environment. It is a season for morning walks, shared meals, visits with friends, and the simple pleasure of enjoying sunshine and fresh air. Summer in Bend encourages residents to slow down and savor the moment, whether that means attending a local event, spending time with neighbors, or simply enjoying the view from home.

June is also a month for reflection and remembrance. Juneteenth, observed on June 19, honors the day in 1865 when enslaved African Americans in Galveston, Texas, learned of their freedom, more than two years after the Emancipation Proclamation. It is a meaningful reminder of the importance of freedom, equality, and justice in our shared history. Recognizing Juneteenth gives communities like Bend an opportunity to celebrate progress while also learning from the past.

Community is at its strongest when it makes room for both celebration and awareness. That is especially true in a 55+ community, where residents bring a wide range of life experience, perspective, and connection to the neighborhood. The values of respect, neighborliness, and inclusion help create an environment where people can feel at home while remaining engaged with the larger Bend community. June is a fitting time to appreciate those values and the role they play in everyday life.

The beauty of summer in Bend is that it invites participation. Local events, volunteer efforts, and shared community activities all help strengthen the bonds between neighbors. Whether residents are gathering for a seasonal outing, enjoying a conversation with friends, or taking part in a community celebration, these moments build the kind of connection that makes a neighborhood feel vibrant and meaningful.

Juneteenth also serves as a reminder that community grows stronger when it embraces understanding and inclusion. It encourages reflection, education, and gratitude for the progress that has been made, while also inspiring continued commitment to fairness and respect. For communities of every kind, this message is an important one. It reminds us that the strength of a neighborhood is measured not only by its comfort and amenities, but by the values it shares.

As June unfolds, Bend has every reason to celebrate. The season brings sunshine, connection, and opportunities to enjoy the best of local life. At the same time, it offers space to reflect on history and honor the meaning of Juneteenth. Within that larger picture, Cascade Village is part of the fabric of Bend, a place where residents can enjoy the beauty of summer, the comfort of community, and the value of living among neighbors who care.

June is a month of growth, gratitude, and gathering. In Bend, it reminds us that a strong community is built not just on where we live, but on how we live together.

COMMUNITY HIGHLIGHTS

Dive Into Wellness: Pool Fitness & Meditative Yoga Come to Cascade Village This Summer

As summer settles into Bend and the days grow longer and sunnier, Cascade Village is offering residents two wonderful ways to stay active, feel grounded, and enjoy the season close to home. This June, we're excited to welcome back Pool Fitness and Meditative Yoga, two classes designed to support both movement and mindfulness in a relaxed, community setting.

Pool Fitness makes the most of one of summer's best wellness environments: the water. Aquatic exercise is refreshing, supportive, and surprisingly effective, offering a full-body workout that feels easier on the body while still challenging the muscles. In the pool, the natural resistance of water helps strengthen arms, legs, and core muscles with every movement, while buoyancy reduces impact on the joints. This makes water-based exercise especially appealing for residents seeking a safe, low-impact way to stay active, improve mobility, and build endurance.

Because aquatics combines movement with the soothing qualities of water, Pool Fitness can feel energizing and restorative at the same time. Classes are performed in shallow water, so participants do not need to be strong swimmers to take part. Whether you're new to aquatic exercise or already enjoy the benefits of water workouts, Pool Fitness offers a welcoming way to move at your own pace while staying cool on warm summer mornings.

We're also pleased to share that Pool Fitness classes are being taught again by instructor Jes Scheel, whose guidance and upbeat approach help make each session both effective and enjoyable. Jes brings a welcoming energy to class and helps create a comfortable environment where residents of all fitness levels can participate with confidence.

Pool Fitness is scheduled for Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10:00 a.m., as shown on the June activity calendar.

COMMUNITY HIGHLIGHTS

Meditative Yoga

For those looking to slow down and reset, Meditative Yoga offers the perfect Sunday evening retreat. Beginning at 6:00 p.m. each Sunday, this gentle class encourages residents to stretch, breathe, and unwind before the start of a new week.

The class focuses on simple movements, breath awareness, and mindfulness, making it accessible to residents of all experience levels. Each session ends with guided relaxation, helping participants release tension and settle into a restful, peaceful state.

Soft lighting and a welcoming atmosphere create an environment that supports both physical ease and mental clarity. Residents are invited to move at their own pace, allowing space to reconnect with their bodies while quieting the mind after a busy week.

Regular participation can help improve flexibility, reduce stress, and promote better sleep, making it an ideal addition to any wellness routine. It also provides a meaningful opportunity to step away from daily demands and establish a consistent moment of calm and reflection.

Whether you're looking to energize your mornings or end your week in calm reflection, these wellness classes offer a lovely way to care for body and mind, and to connect with neighbors along the way.

Cascade Village Gathers for Summer Cookout Social

There are few events that better capture the spirit of summer than a backyard barbecue. The scent of food on the grill, the sound of laughter drifting through the evening air, and the easy pace of a long June night all come together to create the kind of setting that brings people closer. On Thursday, June 11, at 4:30 p.m., Cascade Village will welcome residents to its Summer BBQ Cookout Social, one of the most anticipated community gatherings of the season.

Designed to bring neighbors together in a relaxed and welcoming atmosphere, the Summer BBQ Cookout Social offers residents a chance to step away from their routines and enjoy an evening centered on connection, good food, and conversation. Whether new to the community or long-time residents, everyone is invited to participate in this festive event and enjoy the simple pleasures that make summer memorable.

Guests are encouraged to bring their favorite side dish or dessert to share, adding a personal touch to the evening's spread. Potluck-style gatherings like this help create a true sense of community, allowing residents to contribute something special while also sampling a variety of homemade favorites. From classic summer sides to sweet treats, the shared table becomes a reflection of the diverse personalities and talents that make Cascade Village unique.

Beyond the food, the Summer BBQ Cookout Social is about building relationships. In today's busy world, opportunities to sit down, talk, and get to know the people who live nearby can be rare. Events like this create a natural space for neighbors to connect, introduce themselves, and strengthen the bonds that help turn a residential community into a neighborhood. A friendly conversation over a plate of barbecue or dessert may be the beginning of a lasting friendship.

The event also serves as a reminder of the value of shared experiences. Community gatherings help foster a sense of belonging and pride, giving residents a chance to enjoy where they live in a more personal and meaningful way. By creating moments of laughter, hospitality, and shared enjoyment, Cascade Village continues to build a community culture that goes beyond everyday living.

As summer gets underway, the Summer BBQ Cookout Social promises to be a relaxed and enjoyable evening for all who attend. With delicious food, friendly faces, and the welcoming spirit of Cascade Village, the event is sure to be a highlight of the season.

Residents are encouraged to mark their calendars, bring a dish to share, and join their neighbors on Thursday, June 11 at 4:30 p.m. for an evening of food, fun, and community connection.

HOLIDAY HIGHLIGHTS

Father's Day in Cascade Village and Bend

Father's Day is a meaningful occasion to honor the fathers, grandfathers, stepfathers, guardians, and father figures who help shape our families, neighborhoods, and communities. It is a day set aside not only to celebrate the men who provide guidance and support, but also to recognize the steady presence, encouragement, and love they bring into everyday life.

The holiday itself has a rich history. Father's Day began in the early 1900s as a way to recognize the important role fathers play in the home and community. Sonora Smart Dodd of Spokane, Washington, is widely credited with helping establish the holiday after being inspired by her own father, a widowed Civil War veteran who raised six children on his own. The first Father's Day celebration took place in 1910, and after many years of growing recognition, the holiday eventually became a permanent national observance in 1972.

Today, Father's Day is celebrated on the third Sunday in June and has become a tradition for families across the country. While the ways of celebrating may vary, the heart of the holiday remains the same: gratitude. It is a chance to pause and appreciate the fathers who lead by example, offer encouragement, solve problems, and make countless sacrifices that often go unnoticed.

In Cascade Village, Father's Day also serves as a reminder of the strong family values that help create a welcoming and connected community. The dads and father figures in our neighborhood contribute in ways both big and small, through their dedication to family life, their involvement in community activities, and the everyday moments that help build lasting memories. Whether they are spending time with their children, supporting local events, or simply being present for the people who count on them, their role is deeply meaningful.

Across Bend, Father's Day offers even more opportunities to celebrate and connect. Local gatherings, family outings, and special events provide a chance for people to come together and enjoy the holiday in a way that feels personal and memorable. Some families may choose a relaxed brunch, a scenic outing, or a quiet afternoon at home, while others may take advantage of local Father's Day activities around town. However it is celebrated, the day reflects the spirit of appreciation that makes both Bend and Cascade Village feel like strong, family-centered places to live.

Father's Day is also a time to recognize that fatherhood takes many forms. Some are new fathers discovering the joys and responsibilities of the role for the first time. Others are experienced dads, grandfathers, or father figures who have spent years offering wisdom, patience, and love. Some are single fathers, stepfathers, or mentors who step into the role with care and consistency. Each one plays an important part in the lives of those they support.

As we celebrate Father's Day in Cascade Village and throughout Bend, we are reminded that the influence of a good father reaches far beyond one day on the calendar. It is reflected in the lessons taught, the support given, the time shared, and the example set. To all the fathers and father figures in our community, thank you for the strength, compassion, and dedication you bring every day.

COMMUNITY HIGHLIGHTS

Trivia Night Brings Fun and Fellowship to Cascade Village

Residents of Cascade Village are invited to enjoy an evening of friendly competition, laughter, and community connection at Trivia Night on June 26 at 5:00 p.m. in the Cascade Village clubhouse. This lively event will bring neighbors together for a fun challenge that is sure to spark conversation, teamwork, and plenty of smiles.

Trivia nights have long been a favorite social activity because they combine entertainment with a little healthy competition. The format is often reminiscent of popular quiz shows like Jeopardy! and Family Feud, where quick thinking, teamwork, and a wide range of knowledge all come into play. At Cascade Village, the evening will offer residents a chance to test their knowledge while enjoying the company of friends and neighbors in a relaxed setting.

One of the most entertaining parts of the evening will be the pop culture category. Pop culture trivia adds a fun, modern twist to the game by including questions about movies, television, music, celebrities, streaming hits, viral moments, and other familiar entertainment topics. These questions are especially enjoyable because they draw on shared experiences and everyday interests, making it easy for everyone to join in and contribute. Whether participants are experts on classic films, current hit songs, or memorable TV moments, the pop culture round is sure to inspire plenty of discussion and laughter.

Beyond the questions and answers, Trivia Night is really about bringing people together. Events like this help strengthen the sense of community at Cascade Village by creating opportunities for residents to connect, interact, and enjoy a shared experience. It is a simple but meaningful way to build friendships and make lasting memories with neighbors.

We hope to see many residents there for what promises to be a fun and engaging evening. Bring your best trivia skills, your team spirit, and your enthusiasm for a great night with the Cascade Village community.

RESTAURANT HIGHLIGHT

In the heart of downtown Bend, where the high desert meets a thriving culinary scene, Zydeco Kitchen & Cocktails has spent more than two decades defining what “casual upscale” dining really means. Equal parts neighborhood favorite and special-occasion destination, this long-standing restaurant blends Southern soul with Pacific Northwest sophistication, earning its place as one of Central Oregon’s must-visit tables.

Opened in 2004 by husband-and-wife team Steve and Cheri Helt, Zydeco was born from a bold vision: bring Cajun and Creole flavors to Bend, filtered through the region’s exceptional local ingredients. What started as a dream quickly became a cornerstone of the community. In 2024, the restaurant celebrated its 20th anniversary, a milestone marked not just by longevity, but by its role in countless milestones for its guests, from anniversaries to engagements and celebratory dinners.

Step inside and you’ll find a space that strikes a rare balance, warm and inviting, yet refined enough for a memorable night out. That duality carries through to the menu. Under the direction of Executive Chef Eric Joppie, whose résumé spans London, the Bay Area, and Portland, Zydeco delivers dishes that feel both comforting and elevated. Think barbecue shrimp with depth and spice, perfectly blackened fish, prime steaks, and slow-cooked ribs—alongside polished plates like Dungeness crab cakes, diver scallops, and Oregon rockfish courtbouillon. Even the desserts, especially the key lime pie, have earned a loyal following.

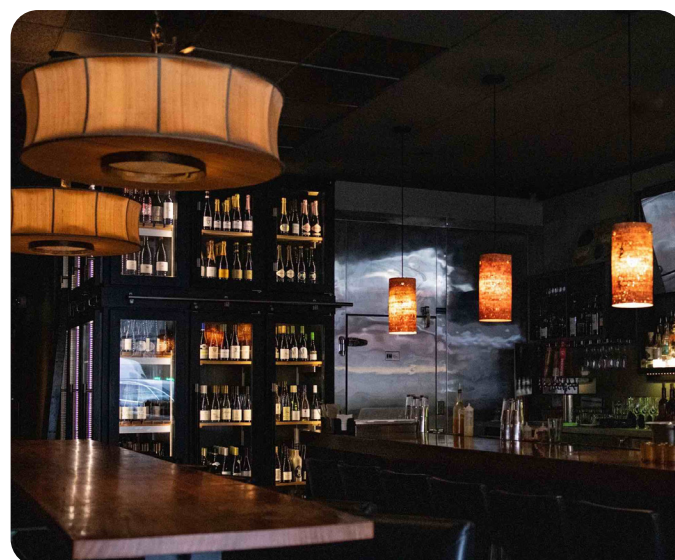

At its core, Zydeco is a restaurant rooted in place. The kitchen leans heavily on Central Oregon’s agricultural network, sourcing from respected producers like Deschutes Gourmet Mushrooms, Eberhards Dairy, and Wilder Seafood. The result is a menu that feels fresh, seasonal, and distinctly regional, even as it draws inspiration from the American South.

That connection to community extends beyond the plate. Zydeco has long been a supporter of local initiatives and charities, reflecting the Helts’ deep involvement in Bend’s civic and educational landscape. It’s this combination of hospitality, consistency, and community presence that has earned the restaurant accolades such as “Restaurant of the Year” and “Best Dinner” from local publications, as well as national recognition from Food Network’s Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives.

For visitors, Zydeco offers an easy entry point into Bend’s dining culture, approachable yet polished, lively yet intimate. For locals, it remains a dependable favorite, equally suited for a spontaneous date night or a long-planned celebration.

As the Helts expand their culinary footprint with new concepts like the forthcoming Stacks Dinner and Delicatessen, Zydeco continues to anchor their vision: thoughtful food, strong local ties, and a dining experience that keeps people coming back.

Zydeco Kitchen & Cocktails is located in downtown Bend and serves dinner nightly. Reservations are recommended, especially on weekends.

FAVORITE RECIPE

Cajun Jambalaya: Bold One-Pot Comfort Food

A classic Louisiana rice dish featuring chicken, sausage, and shrimp, perfect for both casual weeknights and effortless entertaining.

What Makes Cajun Jambalaya Special

Jambalaya brings together smoky sausage, tender chicken, and succulent shrimp with the "holy trinity" of onion, bell pepper, and celery, creating a deeply layered and aromatic base. The rice cooks directly in the pot, absorbing Cajun spices, tomatoes, and savory broth for a rich, cohesive flavor in every bite.

This one-pot approach makes it especially well-suited for hosting, allowing you to prepare everything in a single vessel while focusing on your guests. Serve it straight from a Dutch oven, finished with fresh green onions and parsley, and offer hot sauce on the side for an added kick.

Key Ingredients:

- Andouille sausage, chicken thighs, and optional shrimp
- Onion, bell pepper, celery, garlic, green onion, parsley
- Long-grain white rice
- Chicken broth, diced tomatoes
- Cajun seasoning, thyme, Worcestershire, hot sauce

Tip: Make your own Cajun seasoning blend to control the heat level.

How to Make It:

1. Brown sausage and chicken in a heavy pot.
2. Sauté onion, bell pepper, and celery until soft; add garlic.
3. Stir in tomatoes, Cajun seasoning, herbs, and sauces.
4. Return meats, add rice and broth, then simmer until rice is tender.
5. Add shrimp at the end, let steam, then garnish with green onion and parsley.

Serve warm with crusty bread and your favorite hot sauce. A crisp Sauvignon Blanc or light beer works beautifully with this jambalaya.

Smoky sausage, tender chicken, and shrimp over perfectly seasoned rice.

Home Tips for June

As summer arrives, June is the perfect time to refresh your home and settle into the rhythm of longer days and warmer weather. At Cascade Village, a few simple updates can make your space more comfortable, energy-efficient, and ready for the season.

Start by preparing your home for rising temperatures. Ensuring your air conditioning system is running efficiently can make a noticeable difference in both comfort and utility costs. A quick filter replacement or cleaning can improve airflow and indoor air quality, while also helping your system run more efficiently. Keeping blinds or curtains closed during peak afternoon sun can also reduce heat buildup indoors.

Outdoor spaces become especially valuable this time of year. Whether you have a private balcony or enjoy shared community areas, a small refresh can go a long way. Cleaning surfaces, adding a few plants, or setting up a simple seating area can create an inviting place to relax or entertain. Summer-friendly plants such as succulents or herbs are great low-maintenance options.

Safety and preparation are equally important as activity levels increase. June is a great time to test smoke detectors and carbon monoxide alarms, review emergency contacts, and ensure your home is secure—especially if you're planning any travel. Taking a few preventative steps now can help you avoid issues later in the season.

Inside your home, consider lightening up your space. Swapping out heavier fabrics for lighter linens and decluttering unused items can instantly make your home feel brighter and more open. Even small adjustments can create a more relaxed and enjoyable summer environment.

June Home Checklist

- Replace or clean HVAC air filters
- Test smoke and carbon monoxide detectors
- Clean and refresh balcony or patio areas
- Water plants early in the morning or evening to prevent heat stress
- Check windows and doors for proper sealing to keep cool air in
- Unplug unused electronics to reduce energy use
- Set light timers if traveling
- Declutter closets and donate unused items
- Switch to lighter bedding and summer fabrics

Taking a little time this month to care for your home can make a big impact throughout the summer. Cascade Village is not just where you live, it's where your home should feel at its best.

SPLIT SECONDS

BY ADAM WAGNER AND SIMEON SEIGEL / EDITED BY WILL SHORTZ

Adam Wagner, of Oakland, Calif., is a creative lead at Patreon, a monetization platform for content creators. Simeon Seigel, of Brooklyn, is a partner at an architecture and design firm in New York City. They're frequent Times crossword contributors but first-time collaborators. Adam writes: "I reached out to Simeon because I just had to meet this mysterious constructor who kept scooping my theme ideas." Turns out the feeling was mutual! They reviewed thousands of potential theme answers for this puzzle. — W.S.
